

Student safety is of paramount importance and all District 109 students have the right to remain anonymous on District technology postings. No identifiable criteria should be posted without written parental consent that would enable web browsers to trace District 109 students.

These guidelines are intended to protect our children from being specifically identified through material that is posted on the District's technological resources. All postings on these resources will adhere to the following guidelines:

- A student's full name should never be published or displayed without written parental permission.
- A student's first name may be posted, or displayed when it is determined to be essential to the content or format of the piece. Whenever possible authors should avoid associating a student's first name with the student's picture, grade level, or class.
- Never post a student's address, email address or other confidential information.
- All pictures and associated captions must be approved by the building principal prior to their posting.

These guidelines are subject to reevaluation by the District #109 Web Committee.
